Free Labor in North Missouri-A glance at the map of Missouri discloses the fact that the portion of the State bordering on lows is marked as thickly with lines of streams as the hand with veins A Missourian familiar with all sections of the great State, assured us yeare ago that North Missouri was the most desirable of lands for agricultural purposes, that every quarter or half section had its living stream, the practic and timber so alternating as to just suit for pleasant farms and homes .-The country is sufficiently rolling, soil fertile, cial emporium. Free immigration has been ac- confidence.

The free labor movement is making rapid progress in Missouri. It is sweeping everything before it, and it is certain to annihilate, in a very short time, the party of aristocratic slavery propagandists, who are opposed to its principles. The people are determined to clear the way for the properties of the grand mayonant, which the progress of the grand movement, which has already accomplished much for the material presperity of the State.
